

Bovine - C

Natural Digestive Health Solution for Newborn Calves

YES, THERE IS AN ALTERNATIVE!

Get your calves on the right track from the start.

It is never too soon to give your newborn calves the extra edge they need to get on the thriving curve. Give them Bovine-C during the first few days.

Ready to use. No stock solutions, no diluting.

Bovine-C comes in a handy 900ml bottle, containing enough product for 45 calves per day. Feeding each calf 10ml of this ready-to-use solution in 2 quarts of milk replacement, twice a day, is all it takes to get the full benefit of Grazix.

Don't wait until you see the need.

The reality is, challenges to your calves' digestive health can start right at birth. Why wait until the problems start growing in your farm? Grazix has been shown in field trials around the world to help maintain normal digestive function in various challenging environments.

Innovation that goes straight to the bottom line.

Grazix Bovine-C is a careful blend of vitamin B1, known to alleviate the effects of stress, and LiveExtract®, a revolutionary technology developed by LiveLeaf®.

Safe, natural and economical.

The ingredients used in Grazix products are thoroughly tested and proven as a safe and effective alternative to help maintain natural digestive balance in calves born and raised in challenging production environments.

Product Ordering Information:

Net Contents: 900 ml (30.4 oz) per bottle
Product code: ITM-13506 (case of 6 bottles)

Get the most out of Grazix!

For maximum production benefits, we recommend that you make the administration of Grazix Bovine-C part of your standard operating procedures, during the first few days of the life of your calves. Protect your entire farm as early as possible!

Learn more:

Please contact Grazix Animal Health at 888-510-5568 or at info@grazix.com for more details on how Grazix products work, how carefully they are manufactured and tested, and how they can help optimize your production environment.

Grazix: the ultimate nutritional supplement™

Bovine - C

Natural Digestive Health Solution for Newborn Calves

Frequently Asked Questions

What is Bovine-C?

Grazix Bovine-C is a nutritional supplement specifically formulated to support the digestive health of newborn calves. It contains vitamin B1, LiveXtract™ of pomegranate and LiveXtract™ of green tea.

How does Bovine-C work?

Vitamin B1 is known for alleviating the effects of stress on animals, especially on their digestive system. The LiveXtract technology builds on a solid scientific foundation of studies showing the benefits of polyphenols on digestive health, and takes their positive effects to the next level. Pomegranate and green tea have been selected for being recognized as safe, and for their high content in polyphenols. The polyphenols are bio-activated and stabilized by the LiveXtract process. As a result, they can deliver the full benefits of living plant immunity to the digestive tract of the animals.

How do I prepare and feed Bovine-C? When should Bovine-C be fed?

Bovine-C is ready to use in milk replacement. For best results, each calf should be fed 10 ml (1/3 oz) of Bovine-C in 2 quarts of milk replacement, twice daily, for 3 or 4 days. One bottle contains enough product to supplement 45 calves for one day. Start feeding Bovine-C to your newborn Calves as soon after birth as practical.

Which calves should be fed Bovine-C?

Even though it is tempting to feed Bovine-C only to those animals that appear stressed, the biggest health and business benefits can only be obtained if the entire herd is protected by this powerful solution. Do not wait until you see symptoms of stress spreading in your farm: make Bovine-C a part of your standard operating procedure, and observe the returns.

Why should I use Bovine-C?

Bovine-C is a safe and effective alternative for maintaining the natural digestive health of your newborn calves, and for helping to keep them on the thriving curve. Ask us for more details on how Grazix products work, how carefully they are manufactured and tested, and how they can help you optimize your production environment.

Read more at: www.grazix.com or call us at: 1-888-510-5568

Grazix: the ultimate nutritional supplement™